Xeditor

Professional XML Editing

Create, edit and review structured content quickly and easily with our online XML editor. Access all your XML documents anytime, anywhere and collaborate with other authors in real-time – regardless of their technical proficiency.

Xpublisher

Professional XML Publishing

Manage and publish structured contents and any other digital assets efficiently with our online publishing system Xpublisher. Its professional page and book planning is the ideal basis for a fully automated print production. Xpublisher also facilitates the creation or post-processing of layout-intensive publications in desktop tools like Adobe® InDesign™. The integrated workflow engine provides a full overview and a smooth exchange between all project participants.
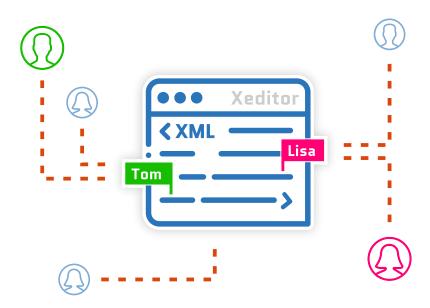

Xeditor

Flexible Editing

Whether online or offline: Xeditor allows you to access all your documents via your web browser. You are even able to continue your work when the internet connection is unexpectedly interrupted. Alterations will simply be transmitted with the next synchronization.
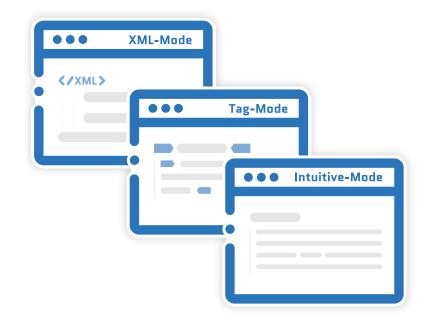

Traceable Collaboration

Xeditor's advanced change tracking marks changes not only in the text but also in the XML structure. In addition, modifications and comments are highlighted for all users, making version comparisons a thing of the past.

Individual View

Xeditor provides all users with a technical and an intuitive view. Technical writers have the choice between the well-known tag view mode or the raw XML editor. Subject matter experts benefit as well from the easy Word-like handling.

Bidirectional InDesign™ & XML Synchronization

Xpublisher automatically updates XML sources and keeps them synchronized if changes are made at any stage of the process – even in the final layouting retouches using Adobe® InDesign™.
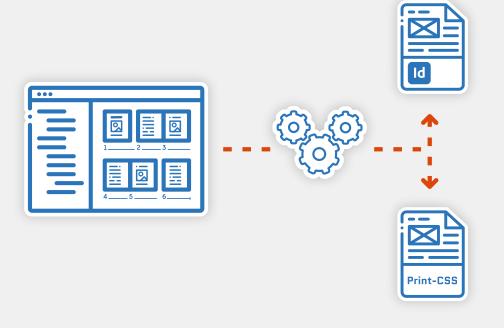

Professional BPMN Workflow Management

The integrated BPMN workflow engine controls all processes and the associated tasks, ensures a smooth exchange of content within the team and reduces the production time significantly.

Easy Production Planning

The professional page and book planning of Xpublisher is the basis for every print production. Publishing is fully automatized with PrintCSS or assigned to preconfigured Adobe® InDesign™ templates where only the final touch is done manually. This content-first approach allows maximum efficiency in the entire product creation process.
